

BOARD REPORT

July 8, 2004

Cerro Coso Community College Drama Department Performs

The Cerro Coso Drama Department drew the school year to a close with a series of performances. The Production Class presented William Shakespeare's THE WINTER'S TALE on May 7th, 8th, and 9th. Directed by Melinda Fogle, the production involved thirty cast and crew members. THE WINTER'S TALE follows the story of King Leontes. Leontes' suspicions about his wife's fidelity cause him to take extreme actions that in turn threaten the well-being of not only his own family, but also of the entire kingdom. The play was well attended and well received by the community. The Department also gave final performances in Improv, acting, and voice. The Cerro Coso "Who Said What Now?" Improv Troupe gave a year-end performance on April 29th, the Acting Class presented a Showcase of Monologues and Scenes on May 10th, and the Voice for the Actor Class gave a final presentation on May 13th.

Brittany Throckmorton, Laura Johnson, and Amy Blair in THE WINTER'S TALE

Frankie Jaime, Leanne Pearl, Grace Lachnit, Diana Woody, and Barry MacAusland in THE WINTER'S TALE

Cast and Crew of THE WINTER'S TALE

Cerro Coso Drama Department Offers Free Screenwriting Workshop

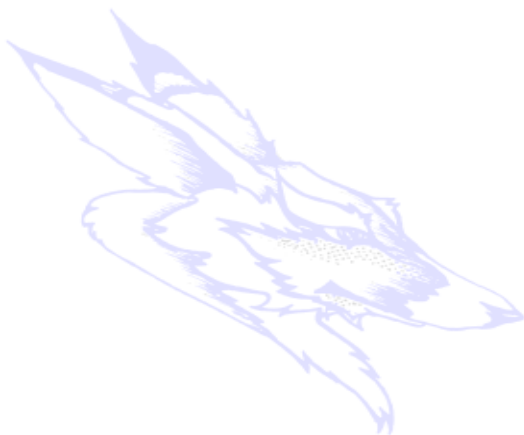

The Cerro Coso Drama Department offered a free Screenwriting Workshop on Saturday, June 26th from 12 - 4 pm in the Cerro Coso Lecture Center. The workshop featured author and screenwriter John Scott Lewinski. Mr. Lewinski discussed his experience in the film industry as well as provided participants insight and basic instruction in the business of screenwriting. The workshop was free and open to the public.

John Scott Lewinski writes screenplays, books, interactive games, sketch comedy and magazine articles out of Los Angeles, CA. Mr. Lewinski started out researching, writing and producing public affairs programs for WMVS/WMVT — PBS in Milwaukee, WI. After moving to Hollywood, he got his first job as a writer's assistant for Steven E. de Souza (Die Hard, 48 Hours, Tomb Raider) and for the Black Entertainment Television comedy series, Comicview. He worked his way up to staff writer and wrote several sketches for the Comicview Players.

Lewinski's interactive writing includes contributions to the multi-million selling CD-ROM games LucasArts' "Star Wars: Demolition," Broderbund's "Riven, The Sequel to Myst," "Command & Conquer II - Tiberian Sun," "Command & Conquer - Red Alert" and "The Journeyman Project 3, Legacy of Time." His feature articles on game writing and interactive industry trends currently appear in Amazing Stories Magazine and Game Developer Magazine.

Lewinski holds a Master of Fine Arts degree in Screenwriting from Loyola Marymount University in Los Angeles and a B.A. in Journalism from Marquette University. He completed his study of English Literature at Exeter College, University of Oxford. UK.

Solar Photovoltaic Update

The Solar Photovoltaic Project is proceeding on schedule and within budget. Electrical equipment has been installed in the block wall electrical building. The College is now waiting for Southern California Edison to bring the solar plant on line.

CCCC Special Events Calendar May/June 2004

June 14, 2004 Summer Session Begins

June 26, 2004 Screen Writing Workshop

11:00 AM – 5:00PM